Job Title Cognos/Actuate Developer

Location United States – Detroit/Somerset NJ

Position Type Full-time

Job Description The two primary skills are report development and Software development.

The report development needs a heavy Cognos person, and some Actuate. The actuate background basically being able to open reports, move around the environment and read the details of reports.

The software development needs someone comfortable with directing programmers in what needs to be done in the tool to make it work, and to add value once the tool is working by adding capabilities. Thus, the candidate needs a good understanding of what is possible with development but at a "code level".

Qualifications Required:

- Advanced Cognos Report Construction – 3 Years
- Cognos Modeling – 2 years
- HTML/XML
- Coding

Desired Skills:

- Knowledge of low-level software development
- Comfortable in an R&D environment
- Comfortable with an uncertain development environment

Responsibilities

Convert report layouts from Actuate to Cognos and then fill in (in Cognos) the query and other report requirements from an Actuate. QA report conversions in a side-by side basis and provide constant feedback to the conversion utility team for utility improvement. Ability to investigate problems in the conversion tool and work with the development team is needed. Significant software development experience is needed.
