

Company Overview:

GalaxE.Solutions®, Inc. (GalaxE), is an industry leader in designing and deploying business processes and supporting systems that enable clients to transact and share information across internal networks and the Internet, targeting business results, competitiveness and efficiency. With state-of-the-art delivery centers in Detroit, MI, Somerset, NJ, Bangalore, India and Toronto, Canada, GalaxE leverages its expertise in professional technology, staffing and managed services to deliver quality solutions for the most demanding business and user requirements.

Galaxy Systems, Inc. is a national IT professional services firm, established in 1990, that offers a full suite of services to Fortune 1000 companies. Galaxy is headquartered in Somerset, NJ with regional offices in New York City, Bangalore, India, Michigan, and Canada. Galaxy's reputation for rapid delivery of quality technical expertise and IT solutions has earned it preferred vendor status with high profile clients in the financial, pharmaceutical, retail, and communications sectors, as well as many emerging technology companies.

Job Title .NET Programmer Analyst

Location United States – Somerset – New Jersey

Position Type Full-time

Job Description Works with limited specifications to meet programming assignment goals and objectives in a timely and accurate manner. Codes, tests, debugs, documents and installs modified and new programs.

Maintains integrity of program logic and coding and works within the checks and balances for operational controls. Will provide the Team Leader with innovative and creative recommendations for problem solving. Maintains an up-to-date knowledge of a broad range of computer technology and standards.

Qualifications

Required:

- Object Oriented Coding a must
- Experience programming in SQL 2003/2005/2008 language.
- Experience writing and editing code written in Java Script
- Experience writing and editing code written in XML
- Experience writing and editing code written in C#
- Experience in understanding and editing code written in
 - Visual Basic 6
 - .NET a plus
 - VBScript a plus
- Display analytical skills to be able to understand supplied specifications
- Ability to communicate with all levels of staff and management
- BA/BS Degree in Computer Science or Information Systems and 2+ years experience in related field or 5+ yrs equivalent application development experience

Responsibilities

Designing, implementing and maintaining moderately complex to complex Information Systems components that support business operations. Essential duties to include, but are not limited to: Writes source code, adapts existing components, compiles, links and tests the developed components as units creating test stubs and test data as necessary. Fixes defects identified during unit testing and re-execute unit tests to verify the expected behavior. Ensures design meets performance, usability, reliability and scalability requirements in addition to the functional requirements.

Performs analysis and conceptual design on moderate to complex system components. Provides the appropriate support during testing phases. Performs other duties as assigned. Excellent analytical, PC and problem solving skills required. Excellent oral, written and interpersonal skills required.

Contact

Respond with formatted resume, location, and work authorization status for immediate consideration. mbrossard@galaxysi.com

Galaxy is an Equal Opportunity Employer (EOE).

<http://www.galaxysi.com/> & <http://www.galaxesolutions.com/>